Description

The Verve 40 defies categorization: it's a walkaround weekender and a day cruiser at the same time. Entertaining a crowd or weekending for two is more its focus, all blended with the Azimut DNA.

Being free to experience the sea the way you want, organizing quick one-day excursions, and even deciding at the last moment to indulge in cocktails at sundown and stay out for the night.

The sun pad in the bow offers relaxation with a perfect view, you can get from the transom all the way to the bow quickly with plenty of handholds along the way. The Verve's profile is dominated by the sharply-angled and frameless windshield (with a single large wiper) that transitions into the swept-back hardtop. Recessed into the aft end of the top is an electrically-actuated SureShade awning that extends to cover the entire cockpit.

The owner's cabin has a sliding and lockable door, standing headroom and a queen sized walk-around berth. A fully-enclosed head and 66 gallons of freshwater make weekending a possibility. The saloon has a cozy dinette with a hi/lo table that converts to a double bed for guests. The straight-line full galley to port will please the onboard chef with its two-burner ceramic stove, a convection oven, a large sink and a 68-quart refrigerator. A flat-screen television hangs just over the sink, facing the settee.

Key features:

Bow Thruster

Seakeeper Stabilizer

Mercury Maneuvering package

Aft electric awning

Painted hull - Miami Silver Met

Wood floor in lower deck dinette
