Precision Engineered. Crafted Without Compromise.

The SM54M by SISTEMAS MARINOS represents a new generation of performance cruising catamarans, combining cutting-edge engineering, advanced manufacturing technologies, and exceptional craftsmanship. Designed and built in Argentina for the international market, every detail of the vessel is optimized for performance, efficiency, structural integrity, and onboard comfort.

Intelligent Marine Technology - at the heart of the SM54M lies a innovative proprietary electrical management system that dramatically reduces wiring complexity and overall vessel weight while increasing reliability and serviceability. The integrated system provides owners with the ability to remotely monitor and manage virtually every onboard electrical function, offering real-time information on vessel systems from anywhere. Advanced diagnostics simplify troubleshooting, reduce maintenance time, and make future upgrades significantly easier.

The result is a smarter, lighter, more efficient vessel designed for modern cruising. The new SM54M is conceived by sailors, for sailors who demand speed, comfort, reliability, and the freedom to explore the world's oceans.

Travel in style and enjoy every moment of it.

Owning a SM54M is not just owning a luxury vessel, it is choosing a lifestyle without compromise. Whether you're island hopping through tropical waters, entertaining family and friends at anchor, or crossing oceans to distant horizons, every journey becomes an experience to savor. Expansive living spaces, elegant contemporary styling, panoramic views, and seamless indoor-outdoor living create an atmosphere of comfort and sophistication.

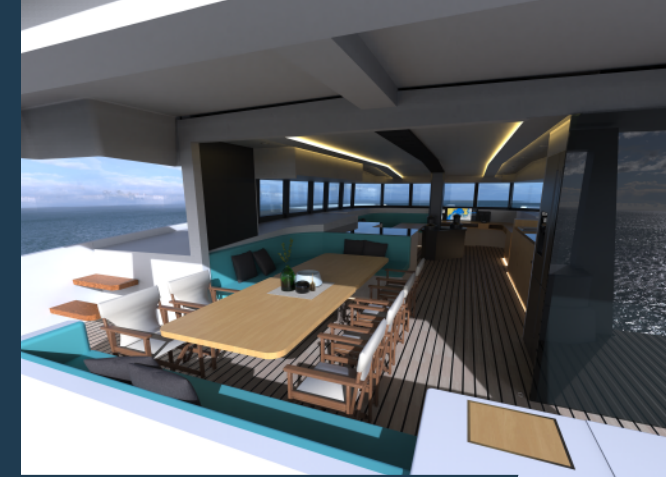

Designed for extended cruising, the SM54M offers the perfect balance of performance and luxury, allowing you to travel in style while enjoying every moment aboard. Wherever your adventure takes you, the SM54M transforms time at sea into a truly exceptional way of life.

Your SM54M, ready for the world - when you are.

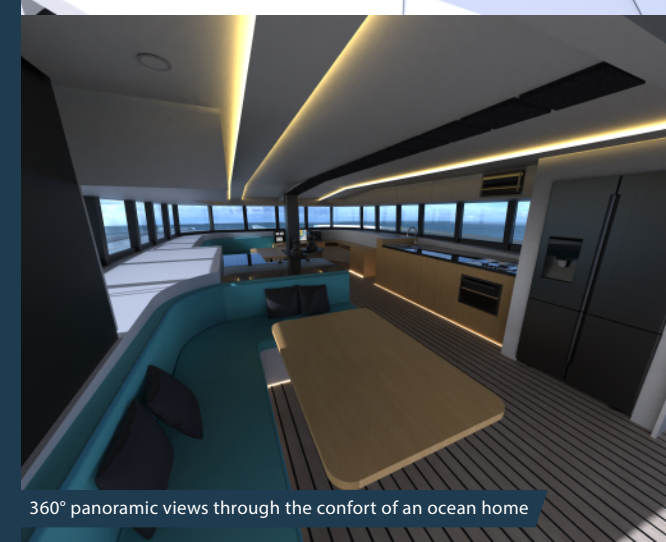

Owning a custom-built performance cruising catamaran typically requires patience. With most international manufacturers quoting delivery times of 18 to 24 months.

We currently have one SM54M that is approximately 80% complete, allowing its future owner to enjoy the advantages of a custom yacht without the extended construction period. We are just entering the last remaining stages with a focus on personalization and final outfitting, giving you the opportunity to tailor the yacht to your own tastes and cruising requirements.

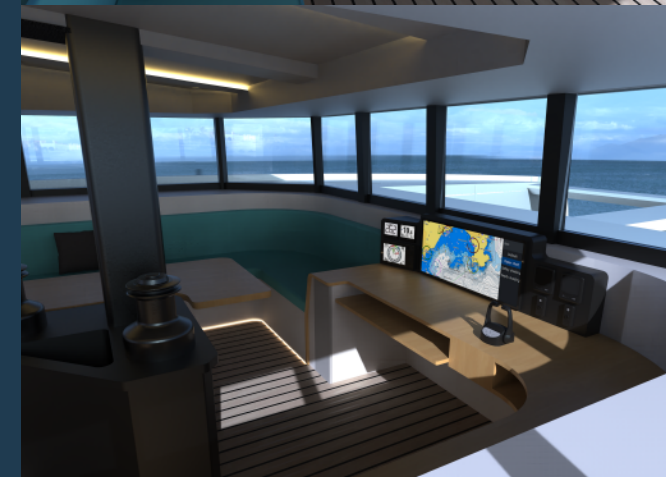

You may still select some interior colors and materials, upholstery and furnishings, navigation and electronic equipment, and any additional onboard accessories and exclusive equipment. Once your chosen customization has been finalized, the yacht will undergo final assembly and comprehensive sea trials before delivery. Seize this rare opportunity and begin your cruising adventures in record time.
